THE REPUBLICAN.

TUESDAY FEBRUARY 5, 1856.

FOR PRESIDENT,
FRANKLIN PIERCE;
OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
BENJ. FITZPATRICK, OF ALABAMA.

SUBJECT TO THE DECISION OF A DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Democratic and Anti-Know-Nothing Electoral Ticket.

For the State at Large,
Wm. L. YANCEY, of Montgomery,
LEROY P. WALKER, of Madison,
For the Districts—
1. A. B. MEER, of Mobile.
2. JAMES L. PUGH, of Barbour.
3. EDWARD J. BACON, of Chambers.
4. JOHN G. BARR, of Tuscaloosa.
5. JOHN D. RATHER, of Morgan.
6. BENJ. C. YANCEY, of Cherokee.
7. J. L. M. CURRY, of Talladega.

We authorized to announce Hon. J. L. Lewis, as a candidate for Probate Judge of Benton County.

The President's Special Message.

The President has delivered a special message to both houses of Congress, in relation to Kansas affairs. It is fully in accordance with the views expressed in his annual message, and seems to meet with the same universal and enthusiastic approbation.

We did not receive it in time for insertion this week, but will give it a place in our next. In the meantime, that our readers may have some idea in advance of the character of this able State paper, we publish the following comment of the Charleston Mercury:

"The Special Message of the President to Congress sent on Thursday, will afford general adoption. It is a document remarkable for its completeness. Its present form, like the living features of the law under which Kansas and Nebraska were organized as Territories, did the history of the settlement of that region to the present date; the present legal position of the parties contending for the mastery of Kansas. On all of these points the message is clear, logical, and undeniably correct. It is also impressive in its tone and its principles naturally extend far beyond the specific topics that nominally fill its arguments."

In fact, the basis of this message, as of the annual message of the President, is that there is a principle of justice and right on which no compromise or sacrifice, and that this principle is nothing else than the cheerful acknowledgment and faithful maintenance of the equality of the States. The whole argument lies in this, and it is precisely of this principle that the President has based his argument in both his general and special message. It is upon this principle that Congress must decide the question."

The Vice Presidency.

The nomination of Gov. Fitzpatrick for the Vice Presidency, is very generally and cordially approved, both by the papers and prominent individuals. The Tuscaloosa Enquirer, and State Rights Democrat published at Elba, however, are of another mind, and the Advertiser & Democrat of Mobile, on the same subject, say, "unless Gen. Pierce or any other northern man selected for the Presidency, we think it more than probable that the name of Mr. Fitzpatrick will be prominently before the country for the Vice Presidency, and that he will receive the nomination in this case." In the State Rights Democrat has seconded this view, and has gone so far as to say, "we are of opinion that he would be a better fit for the position than any other man."

We rejoice to note a letter from Franklin W. Clegg, of New Haven, Conn., who writes that the "newspapers of the South are unanimous in their support of Mr. Pierce for the Vice Presidency, and that they are anxious to see him elected."

Miss. Kirby & Mason are to present a petition to make the Alabama a separate state with the right to secede, and the Alabama will be admitted into the Union as a state, and the new state will be entitled to the same rights as the other states.

The steamship Grenada, from New Orleans, arrived on the 23d.

New York, Jan. 25.—The steamer Star of the West has arrived. She brings over $100,000 worth of cotton.

There was a very severe shock of an earthquake at San Francisco on the 21st January.

The trial of Capt. for the murder of Col. Richardson, had a number of interesting points.

The steamship Galveston, from New Orleans, arrived on the 23d.

We rejoice to note that the Advertiser of Mobile, in its recent issue, has given up its opposition to the admission of Kansas, and has now joined the ranks of those who are in favor of her admission.

A man, the bare mention of whose name in connection with so distinguished a station, can fill with admiration and awe, such unfeigned admiration and enthusiasm, as the foregoing, is certainly worthy, and could be safely trusted in any position in the gift of the people.

We have endorsed these facts, in time duly to press, claims to the end that no prejudice of others, but to show how formidable they are, even at this early day.

Huntsville Female College.

By an Act of the present Legislature, the name of the Beacon Female Institute has been changed to that of the Huntsville Female College. This change has been found necessary in consequence of the number of other institutions of like character, bearing the name of Beacon.

The spring term of this College commenced on the first Monday of February (yesterday). We would advise all who may wish to avail themselves of the almost unparalleled advantages offered, to commence as early in the session as possible.

News of Peace.

A telegraphic dispatch to the Alabama Journal says, the Steamship Adriatic arrived at New York, without week later news from Europe. Reports were in circulation in England that Russia had accepted the peace proposals of the Allies. Cotton had advanced one-eighth, one-fourth of a penny, with sales for the week of 50,000 bales.

United States & England.

The difficulty between the United States and England, relative to the enlistment of soldiers in this country, and the claims of England in Central America, are yet unadjusted, and seem to threaten serious consequences. Mr. Buchanan, our minister to England has resigned, and Mr. Dallas has been appointed in his place. It is difficult to believe however, that two such enlightened nations, bound by such inextricable ties of commercial interest, would enter into a destructive war, upon questions apparently of such easy adjustment; and yet such has been the course of England, and the unreasonable and unjustifiable attitudes assumed by her, that it is hard now to conceive how an amicable adjustment can be brought about, without concessions, on one or both sides, too humiliating to be borne. But England has a very convenient mode of setting up unreasonable claims and pretensions, where there is any hope of success, and then abandoning them, when that hope is lost, and even denying her intentions. Afterwards again she will carry out a cherished object when an opportunity is offered. An instance of this latter kind has recently occurred.

It is well known that the agitation of the Slave question, in and out of Congress, is unwise and unjust to every section of the country; but until the Missouri Compromise be restored as a necessary and certain means of reviving harmony and concord throughout the Union.

Adopted by a vote of 101 to 100.

3. That mutual agitation of the Slave question, in and out of Congress, is unwise and unjust to every section of the country; and that the Missouri Compromise be restored as a necessary and certain means of reviving harmony and concord throughout the Union.

Rejected by a vote of 103 to 100.

2. That the Missouri Compromise shall be restored as a necessary and certain means of reviving harmony and concord throughout the Union.

Adopted by a vote of 101 to 100.

4. That mutual agitation of the Slave question, in and out of Congress, is unwise and unjust to every section of the country; and that the Missouri Compromise be restored as a necessary and certain means of reviving harmony and concord throughout the Union.

Rejected by a vote of 103 to 100.

Mr. Palmer offered a resolution to the effect that the agitation of the Slave question is unwise and unjust to a portion of the American people, and injurious to every section, and ought not to be countenanced.

Adopted by a vote of 103 to 100.

The House then adjourned.

A few short Extracts from Letters, Testimonial, &c.

"I have used Jacob's Cordial in my family, and have found it a most efficient and in my judgment, a valuable remedy."

HON. WILSON WARREN,
Judge of Supreme Court, Ga.

"It gives me pleasure in being able to recommend Jacob's Cordial—my own personal experience, and the experience of my neighbors and friends around me, is a sufficient guarantee for me to believe it to be all that it purports to be viz., A SOVEREIGN REMEDY."

Formerly Judge Sup'r Court, Cherokee Circuit, Deputy G. M. of the Grand Lodge of Georgia.

"I have used Jacob's Cordial in my family, and this, with all I hear about it, is a remedy by those who have tried it, makes me to believe that it stands up to the head of every preparation of the kind, and I would recommend its use in the disease for which it is adapted."

Mrs. G. DOWNS,

Cashier of the Bank of the State of Georgia, Griffin.

"If there is and credibility in human testimony, Jacob's Cordial must stand pre-eminent above all other preparations for the cure of Bowel Diseases. From the mass of testimony it has received in all quarters, it must be very far in advance, as a curative agent, of most if not all other parent preparations."

A. HARRIS, Civilian Surgeon and First Dr. B. G. GRINN.

"The efficient remedy is attracting more rapidly as fast as Emporia is pushing the column into Russia, and gaining commendations wherever used."

A few short Extracts from Letters, Testimonial, &c.
I have used Jacob's Cordial in my family, and have found it a most efficient remedy in my judgment, a valuable remedy."

Hon. Hiram Warner,
Judge of Supreme Court Ga.

It gives me pleasure in being able to recommend Jacob's Cordial—my own personal experience, and the experience of my neighbors and friends around me, is a sufficient guarantee for me to believe it to be all that it purports to be viz.—A SOVEREIGN REMEDY."

Formerly Judge Sup'r Court, Cherokee Circuit.
I take great pleasure in recommending this invaluable medicine to all afflicted with bowel diseases, for which I believe it to be a sovereign remedy decidedly superior to anything else ever tried by me."

A. A. GARDNER.

I have used Jacob's Cordial in my family, and this, with all I hear about it as a remedy by those who have tried it, induces me to believe that it stands at the head of every preparation of the kind, and I would recommend its use in the disease for which it is compounded."

Cashier of the Bank of the State of Georgia, Griffin.

If there is credibility in human testimony, Jacob's Cordial must stand pre-eminent above all other preparations for the cure of Bowel Diseases. From the mass of testimony in its favor coming in from all quarters, it must be very far in advance, as a curative agent, of most if not all other 'patent' preparations."

A. FLEMING, Cashier Marine and Fire Ins. Bk'g, Griffin.

language of one of the subsequent acts of Congress on the subject, that of March 3, 1853, which, in making the appropriation for public buildings of the territory, enacts that the same shall not be expended "until the legislature of said Territory shall have fixed by law the permanent seat of Government." Congress, in these expressions, does not profess to be granting the power to fix the permanent seat of Government, but recognises the power of one already granted. But how? Undoubtedly by the comprehensive provision of the organic act itself, which declares that "the legislative power of the Territory shall extend to all rightful subjects of legislation consistent with the Constitution of the United States and the provision of this act." If, in view of this act, the legislative assembly had the large power to fix the permanent seat of Government at any place in its discretion, of course by the same enactment it would have the included power to fix it temporally.

Nevertheless, allegation that the acts of the legislative assembly were illegal by reason of this removal of its place of session was brought forward to justify the first movement in disregard of law within the Territory. One of the acts of the legislative assembly provided for the election of a delegate to the present Congress, and a delegate was elected under that law. But subsequently to this, a portion of the people of the Territory proceeded, without authority of law, to elect another delegate.

Following upon this movement was an other and more important one of the same general character. Persons confessedly not constituting the body politic, or all the inhabitants, but merely a party of the inhabitants, and without law have undertaken to summon a convention for the purpose of transforming the Territory into a State and have framed a Constitution, adopted it, and under it elected a governor and other officers, and a representative to Congress.

In extenuation of these illegal acts it is alleged that the States of California, Michigan and others, were self-organized, and as such, were admitted into the Union without a previous enabling act of Congress. It is true that, while in a majority of cases, a previous act of Congress has been passed to authorize the Territory to present itself as a State, and that this is deemed the most regular course, yet such an act has not been held to be indispensable and, in some cases, the Territory has proceeded without it, and has nevertheless been admitted into the Union as a State.

I respectfully recommend the enactment of a law to that effect.

I recommend, also, that a special appropriation be made to defray any expense which may become requisite in the execution of the laws or the maintenance of public order in the Territory of Kansas.

We are now printing our paper upon new and beautiful type, and have recently received a large lot of superior paper, and solicit like favors to the one mentioned above from all our friends. Mr. Banks, the free-soil candidate of Massachusetts, the free-soil candidate at last been elected Speaker of the House by a plurality vote, he having received 106 and Mr. Aiken of S. C. 109. In his address to the House, after his election, he promised to discharge the duties of the office, faithfully and impartially; which promises we hope will be fulfilled to the letter.

We are pleased to learn, by a letter from a member of the House, written after the election of Banks, that there is no longer danger of the repeal of the Kansas-Nebraska act; that that policy is destined to be settled one in the organization of territorial governments, and that under the South will be benefited in its application in a Southern direction.

OVERDING THE THING.—There was once a Methodist preacher travelling in the summer. There had been a protracted drought, the earth was parched and dry, and vegetation withered. At night, our Methodist friend stopped in front of a house which belonged to a widow lady, and asked permission to stay all night. The old lady told him bread was scarce, and that corn was still more scarce, and that she did not know whether she could spare enough to feed him and his horse. The traveler answered that he was a minister, and if she would allow him to stay all night he would pray for rain. Upon this she consented, so that night, and the next morning the minister put up long and fervent prayers for rain and again went on his way rejoicing. The night after he left, there came up a tremendous storm. The old lady on getting up in the morning found her garden flooded, her fences swept away, her plantation washed in gales, while ruin and devastation stared her in the face. Turning to one who was standing by, she said plague take these preachers they always overdo the thing. I was afraid of this night before last, when that fellow kept praying so loud."

RIGHTS OF MARRIED WOMEN.—The New York Legislature has a bill before it which provides that any married woman whose husband, from drunkenness or any other cause, shall refuse to provide for her support or the support of her children, or any married woman who shall be deserted by her husband, without fault on her part, shall have the right to transact business in her own name, collect her earnings and those of her minor children, and educate her children, free from the interference of her husband or any other person. She may also bind any or hire out her minor children. All so hereafter it shall be necessary to the validity of every indenture of apprenticeship that the mother, if living with her husband, sign the same. The bill also abates of abuses that exist to an alarming extent.

SENATOR SEWARD ON THE CENTRAL AMERICAN QUESTION.—A Washington dispatch, dated on Tuesday last says:

"Seward says, in his speech, which is to be delivered on Thursday next, on the Central American question: War would embarrass England's prosperous industrial system, and could bring to her return an adequate advantage, if she were successful. My counsel is to advise to Great Britain, that we shall interfere to prevent her exercise of dominion in Central America, if it shall not be discontinued within one year, and that authority be given the President to execute that delayed purpose."

He then favors the construction of railroads from the western borders of the Pacific States to our ports on the Pacific, for the purpose of protecting California and Oregon against the hazards of a war with the first naval power in the world."

INDEPENDENCE, Feb. 4.—The thermometer here indicates a temperature 22 degrees below zero, and the snow is three and four feet deep. GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.—The correspondent, at Vienna, of the London Times, telegraphed to that journal on Wednesday, the 10th instant, at ten o'clock in the morning, that Russia had unconditionally accepted the propositions of the Austrian proposals, has caused great excitement, but a Government despatch next day stated that Russia only accepted the Austrian proposal as a basis of negotiations. Confidence is slightly relaxed, and the public is less sanguine.—Many think that Russia merely accepts these proposals to prolong negotiations and to gain time.

Having thus, under the sanction and advice of many leading Democrats, thrown ourselves into the breach occasioned by the loss of the Southerner, with considerable personal inconvenience to ourselves at this time, and at a crisis, unexpected to us, and full of peril in this and the surrounding counties.

PRICE TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

The Author of the above volume is a graduate of the first medical schools in the United States, and having devoted a quarter of a century to the study of Medicine, and the practice of his profession as a physician, he has become possessed of most invaluable information in regard to the same, and is able to impress into his work the very quintessence of medical science on this important subject; as the result of his experience of the most eminent physicians of our time. As a physician he has demonstrated in his own highly successful practice the treatment of secret diseases in many thousands of cases in the city of Philadelphia alone.

The practice of Dr. Hunter has long been, and still is literally unbound, but at the earnest solicitation of numerous persons, he has been induced to publish the scope of his professional services to the community at large, through the medium of his "Medical Manual and Hand-Book for the Afflicted."

It is a volume that should be in the hand of every family in the land, whether used as a preventive, or as a guide for the alleviation of secret diseases, or as a guide for the detection and removal of every kind.

It is a volume that has received the most unanimous commendation of the best physicians in the land, while many clergymen, fathers, mothers, daughters, and maid-servants have most highly extolled its singular value, and power.

The Legislature.

The Legislature adjourned on Friday last, the 15th inst. We have had the pleasure of greeting our Senator and each one of our Representatives, since their arrival at home, all in good health.

We feel no small degree of County pride in the manner in which they have performed their duties and carried out the will of their constituents. Our Senator, Major Almoneth has proved himself to be emphatically a working man—able, efficient and energetic—always at his post, and never yielding an inch, where the rights and interests of his constituents were at stake. And the same may also be said of our Representatives, Messrs. Ellis, Davis and Moragne. They were all vigilant, diligent and faithful and acquitted themselves to their own credit, and that of the County.

We have not published any portion of the journal this week, intending in our next to publish the captions of all the public acts, and such private acts as are of interest to those within the range of the circulation of our paper.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Senate—Nothing of importance done to-day.

House.—The ballots for printer unsuccessful.

The President has issued a proclamation stating that associations in Kansas, as well as in remote States, are organizing with the design of interfering with the domestic institutions of the Territory. These he says "give assurances that the Czar of Russia will accept the proposed basis for a treaty, and that peace will soon be restored in the east." He predicts the removal of Lord Palmerston from the British ministry as an event immediately following this consummation, and thinks that Palmerston is the only obstacle to a satisfactory settlement of the questions at issue with this country; ergo, Palmerston being out of the way, Great Britain will readily accede to our just demands. Gen. Cass—whose opportunities for personal observation have certainly been great—recently pronounced Palmerston "an unmitigated monarchist, who hates American and American institutions, and possesses, all the stubbornness of the mule." Probably the pacific and conciliatory policy indicated may follow these two events; but neither of the events has yet occurred, and the best laid calculations of nations, as well as individuals often miscarry.

Hon. B. F. Porter, at present, editor of the "Tennessee Valley," published at Guntersville, has taken ground fully in favor of the democratic party and its principles.

Judge Porter we believe was up to some time last Fall identified with the American party; but says now, after calm considerate and conscientious view of the whole ground, that he sees no hope for a constitutional Union, and State and Southern Rights, except among the Democrats. His able pen will be a valuable accession to the democratic party. This is now the third paper in this State which, within a few months has left other party organizations, and unit with the Democrats.

BOSTON. Feb. 6.—The Joint Spe- cial Committee of the Massachusetts Legis- lature have reported that it is inexpedi- ent to re-visit the personal liberty bill.

WASHINGTON. February 7.—The U- nited States Senate has adopted a resolu- tion reported by the Committee on Finances to report the general appropria- tion bill. The Senate has adjourned until Monday. The Senate Committee are still engaged in investigating the ac- tion of the Naval Board. In the House of Representatives to-day, the election of a Printer was postponed. The Speaker was authorized to appoint the Com- mittee, and the House then adjourned until Monday.

WASHINGTON. Feb. 7.—General Cass fell to-day from the steps of the Patent Office, and was severely, though it is hoped not dangerously injured.

His frame was much jarred, and there is some danger of inflammation of the brain in consequence of his advanced age.

Washington. Feb. 8.—Gen. Cass is more comfortable. The impression is that he will recover.

Secretary Marcy has again declined to recognize French as Minister for Na- tragua.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

Bristol, R. I., Feb. 12.—The Tokanolet Cotton Mills at this place was destroyed by fire to-day, involving loss of $110,000, on which there was an insurance for $70,000.

Palmerton and Peace.

The Washington correspondence of the Charleston Standard, in his letter of February 2d, writes that the Arab brought important and highly interesting dispatches for the State Department.

These he says "give assurances that the Czar of Russia will accept the proposed basis for a treaty, and that peace will soon be restored in the east." He predicts the removal of Lord Palmerston from the British ministry as an event immediately following this consummation, and thinks that Palmerston is the only obstacle to a satisfactory settlement of the questions at issue with this country; ergo, Palmerston being out of the way, Great Britain will readily accede to our just demands.

First—slavery excludes, neither in theory or practice, any law-abiding citizens of free States from the States where it exists. Slave States are equally open to all the people of the Union with all of their property.

Secondly—All the territory out of which new States are to be formed, was either ceded to the Union by slave States, or acquired chiefly by Southern counsels, Southern arms, Southern soldiers and Southern statesmen.

Thirdly—Slave society is the oldest, the most common, and the most natural form of society; whilst free society is a little experiment, small in extent, and short in duration, yet which has been attended, (by the showing of its own authors,) with a thousand times greater evils, than slavery has inflicted on mankind, throughout all ages, and all countries—for a single season in Ireland was fraught with more of human suffering than all the annals of slavery exhibit!

In view of these facts, would it not be more reasonable for the South to object to the admission of free States, than for the North to refuse to admit slave States?

We do not intend to imitate the North, become speculative philanthropists and try to set the world to rights, else we might well insist there should be no more free States. We do not wish to abolish free society, nor to prevent its introduction into a fair proportion of the new States, nor do we wish to introduce slavery into any State whose people excluded it when prepared to be admitted as States. Such exclusion is a gross act of injustice to the South; but we are practical men, and will not quarrel about abstractions. If the Southern institutions are admitted into a sufficient kind of the new States, we shall be satisfied.

RICHMOND ENQUIRER.

The unanswerable reputation of the charge of the Northern Abolitionists that the policy of the South has ever been of an aggressive character towards their section of the Union, as contained in the last message of President Pierce to Congress, will be greeted with delight by every patriot in the land.—

While receiving the applause and thanks of all, whose opinions are worth attention, the President, on the other hand will be assailed with all the vindictive fury and fiendish malice of the followers of Seward Greely & Co., and will become a target where at their poisoned arrows will be hurled as furiously as were the darts of Xerxes, cohorts at the devoted Greeks when defending their firesides and families from the invading Persian. It is our duty in this event and none can doubt its coming—to rally around and sustain our Chief Magistrate and the measures of his administration, and prove that we are not ungrateful to those who defend and stand by our constitutional rights in defense of the howlings of fanaticism and the storms of faction that is seeking and gleaming in imagination, on the time when their madness will dissolve the Union and wrench the hounds of civil war on the republic.

Our President does not handle the important questions at issue between the North and the South with the daintiness of an oilier sealer but with the bold manliness and straightforward honesty of a statesman and high public officer. He does us no more than justice when he asserts that, will have heretofore confined our attention to our own affairs, not presuming to officiously interfere with the institution of the Clayton Bulwer treaty at all hazards. That General Almoneth has been instructed by the Mexican Government to withdraw the protest in the three million matter, and that some of the parties have received treasury warrants for their money.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT OF RUSSIA'S ACCEPTANCE.

The following is the official announcement received in Paris of Russia's acceptance of the peace propositions:

"On January 1850.—The French am- bassador at Vienna to the Minister of Foreign Affairs in Paris.—The Prince Kossuth, Envoy Extraordinary—that he has just received from Count Nesselrode at St. Petersburgh the acceptance par le Empereur of the terms offered by Russia for the late negotiations, which propositions are to become the basis of an immediate convention for a truce of peace."

BY VIRGINIA F. TOWNSEND.

IT was an old brown house, standing about half a mile east of ours: I shut my eyes, and I can see it almost as distinctly as

as I can see by opening them, the butternut trees waving solemnly in the summer wind. Most old houses in the country are poems, or rather limericks, elegiacal ballads; but this was not one of them.

There was nothing picturesque about the building; it stood all alone, with the moses growing thick on its blackened eaves, and the blinds cracking backward and forward whenever the wind blew. There was a background of green meadow-land, and in front were broad vine-fields, waving all summer in the sunshine; but for all that the house had one of those dark, uninviting physiognomies which no sunshine can brighten. I was eleven years old that spring when the family, which had long occi-

UPIED the house, and which consisted of a cottage, uneducated man, his indolent, sickly wife, and half a dozen dirty-faced, obscrupulous boys, moved to the West. For several months, the house remained unoccupied; but one day Mrs. Miles, an inti-

Please withdraw my name from the list of candidates for Probate Judge. Owing to my pecuniary business at home, it is out of my power to canvass the country as a candidate is compelled to do in this country. Under such circumstances I have concluded to withdraw my name. Y's resp'y, JAMES LEA.

We publish to-day the captions of all the public Acts passed at the last session of the Legislature, and such private acts as interest any portion of our readers. The session lasted about three months. There were in all 379 acts and joint resolutions, a large majority of them private and local acts, and an unusual proportion of divorces. The session has been remarkable for the large number of bills vetoed by the Governor, nearly all of which were repassed by the Legislature.

Among the joint resolutions, the most important perhaps, were those providing for the call of a State Convention to revise and amend the Constitution. These resolutions provide, we believe that the people shall vote for or against a Convention on the first Monday in May next; and in case a majority vote for a Convention, then the election for members to be held on the first Monday of August following, and the Convention to commence in November next.

CHANCERY COURT.—The Spring Term of our Chancery Court closed on Friday last, Hon. John Foster presiding. Although there were few cases decided in consequence of Judge Foster having been called, still there were few left on the docket, being but little business in that court at present.

The Court here was the second held by Chancellor Foster since his election, the first having been in Cherokee; and it affords us pleasure to state, that thus far he gives promise of fully realising the most sanguine expectations of his friends, which were very high.

the distance of the sun from the earth increasing.—The German journals have given some tables which prove that the distance between the earth and sun is increasing annually, and argue from it that the increasing humidity of our summers is due to the increase of fertility of the earth, and that the inhabitants of the earth are to be attributed solely to the circumstances of ancient Egyptians and Chinese according to which these people formerly thought the sun's disc was almost four times larger than it is seen in our day.

However, we pay attention to the constant diminution of the apparent diameter of the sun, according to the best observations of several centuries; we must suppose that the ancients were not mistaken in the knowledge they have transmitted to us.

In the course of six thousand years from the present time, they assume that the distance will be so great that only an eighth part of the warmth we now enjoy from the sun will be communicated to the earth, and it will then be covered with eternal snow in the same manner as we see the mountains of the north, where the elephant formerly lived, and have neither spring nor summer.

At the close of his administration, several personal friends of Mr. Fillmore, irrespective of party, desired to employ Dr. Stone (an attorney) whose faithful execution of the duty of Chief Justice Taney, Judge Wayne, and others had been great, (united) to execute a bust of Mr. Fillmore, to be placed in the Executive Mansion.

The sum of five hundred dollars was promptly subscribed by members of Congress, Judges of the Supreme Court, and citizens of Washington, Baltimore, &c., but no adequate provision was made for a pedestal, and it remained in the studio, where it was accidentally seen by President Lincoln, who, on learning that there were not funds sufficient to procure a pedestal, generously directed Dr. Stone to have one constructed at his expense.

This act of liberality, however, was not required, the members of Mr. Fillmore's Cabinet having supplied the deficiency; but the noble spirit which dictated it cannot fail to be gratifying to the friends of both

The Courageous Girl.
I was once introduced to a young girl, speaking about fifteen, whose graceful manner attracted my attention. I knew that she was the only child of wealthy and dying parents. I knew she was highly educated, & very accomplished; but of her moral character knew nothing. It so happened that we were detained over night at the house where I had met, and there were many guests. A room was assigned to the interesting young stranger and myself, which the two daughters of our host were also to share with.

These daughters were much older than our heroine, and far from being religious, while that time was indifferent and thoughtless.

We were all chattering and laughing, & the third Louis joined us with her sweet musical voice; but after retiring she gently withdrew into corner, so kind in her manner that I can never forget the impression made upon my mind. A sense of quietude pervaded.

My myth was dashed; I felt through my heart to pray; I wished I was in the Louisa, and that like her I could pour out before an unseen friend.

Upon her face, that as bent over to kiss me, and say an affectionate good night,

I felt such a reverence for the fair young creature who had died, and courage enough to confess Christ before strangers.

When her duty under these circumstances, I responded and loved her fully.

It is doubtful her best companion felt the same; but they like me, were anxious that she act to set a new value on her religious faith and hope. Years have passed, yet when tempted to forsake the right, she still feels the strong lead of man, the memory of the kind, gentle girl often imparts new strength and courage, and induced her to care less for them that kill the body, than for the soul.

Holloway's Pills, may be taken with perfect safety by both sexes, and all age, their effect being mild and positive; their searching properties render them invaluable for the extirpation of every disease, particularly liver and stomach complaints; bilious disorders, and indigestion.

As a purifier of the system, they are unequalled, and their virtues in cases of termination of life, applied to the head and asthmatic complaints, cannot be too highly recommended, in short, by a perseverance with these admirable pills, there are few complaints which can resist their extraordinary influence.

The great purifier, which Moffat's LIFE PILLS & PHOENIX BITTERS have answered the purpose of purifying the system, renders it unnecessary for the proprietor to enter into a particular analysis of their medicinal virtues or properties, having been more than twenty years before the public, and having the unique testimony of more than Three Thousand persons, who have used them, in the enjoyment of perfect health, it is believed that their reputation as the best vegetable medicine now before the public, admits of no dispute. In all the every day village and town in the United States, there are many who are ready to testify to their efficacy, and to the whole system reviving vigor and health.

In cases of scrofula, Ulcers, Scrofuly, or Eruptions of the skin, the operations of the LIFE MEDICINE are truly astonishing, often removing in a few days, what would otherwise require months, their purifying effects on the blood, LIVER, and GALL, DISSIPATE, DROPSY, PILLS, and in short most all diseases, soon yield their curative properties. No family should be without them, as they timely cure much suffering and expense.

We publish to-day the captions of all the public Acts passed at the last session of the Legislature, and such private acts as interest any portion of our readers. The session lasted about three months. There were in all 379 acts and joint resolutions, a large majority of them private and local acts, and an unusual proportion of divorce cases. The session has been remarkable for the large number of bills vetoed by the Governor, nearly all of which were repassed by the Legislature.

These resolutions provide, we believe that the people shall vote for or against a Convention on the first Monday in May next; and in case a majority vote for a Convention, then the election for members to be held on the first Monday of August following, and the Convention to commence in November next.

the distance of the sun from the earth increasing.—The German journals give some tables which prove that the distance between the earth and sun is increasing annually, and argue from it that the increasing humidity of our summers, the loss of fertility of the earth, are to be attributed solely to this circumstance.

Be it so; but it has heretofore been given to us of ancient Egyptians and Chaldeans, which these people formerly knew, that the sun's disc was almost four times as large as we now see it, for their estimation of the apparent diameter of the sun as of what is seen in our day.

However, we pay attention to the constant diminution of the apparent diameter of the sun, according to the best observations; the ancients were not mistaken in the estimate they have transmitted to us.

In the course of six thousand years from the present time, they assume that the diameter will be so great that only an eighth part of the warmth we now employ from the sun will be communicated to the earth, and will then be covered with eternal darkness.

In the same manner as we now see the elephant forested the north, where the elephant formerly lived, and have neither spring nor summer.

At the close of his administration, several personal friends of Mr. Fillmore, irreverent of party, determined to employ Dr. Stone (an ardent follower of the faithful execution of the duty of Chief Justice Taney, Judge Wayne, and others had been great admirers) to execute a bust of Mr.

Fillmore, to be placed in the Executive Mansion.

The sum of five hundred dollars was promptly subscribed by members of Congress, Judges of the Supreme Court, and citizens of Washington, Baltimore, &c., but no adequate provision was made for a pedestal, and it remained in Stone's studio, where it was accidentally seen by President Lincoln, who, on learning that there were not funds sufficient to procure a pedestal, generously directed Dr. Stone to have one constructed at his expense.

This act of liberality, however, was not required, the members of Mr. Fillmore's Cabinet having supplied the deficiency; but the noble spirit which dictated it cannot fail to be gratifying to the friends of both the courageous girl.

I was once introduced to a young girl, about fifteen, whose graceful manners and frankness attracted my attention. I knew that Louisa was the only child of wealthy and doting parents, who knew she was highly educated, &c., very accomplished; but of her moral character, knew nothing. It so happened that we were detained over night at the house where Louisa had met, and there were many guests. A room was assigned to the interesting young stranger and myself, which the two daughters of our host were also to share with us.

These daughters were much older than Louisa, and far from being religious, while that last time was indifferent and thoughtless.

We were all chattering and laughing when first Louisa came with her sweet female voice; but after retiring slightly, withdrew into corner and knelt in prayer. I can never forget the impression made upon my mind by this quiet silent devotion. My myth was dashed; I felt as though I ought to pray; I wished I was like Louisa, and that like her I could pour out my heart before an unseen friend.

When she arose, I saw such a sweet smile upon her face, that ashe bent over to kiss me, and to say an affectionate "good night."

Her alius reverence for the fair virgin, who had play and courage enough to confess Christ before strangers, I knew it must have cost her an effort to fulfil her duty under these circumstances, and I respected and loved her for it.

It is doubtful how gay companions feel the same—and perhaps they like me, were weary that simple act, to set a new value upon their religious faith and hope. Years have passed; yet have tenanted to forsake the light through fear of man, the memory of that sweet girl has often impeded now their strength and courage, and increased their care less for "them that kill the body, but care not for the soul."

Holloway's Pills, may be taken with perfect safety by both sexes, old and all age, their effect being mild and positive; their searching properties render them invaluable for the extirpation of every disease, particularly liver and stomach complaints; bilious disorders, and indigestion. As a purifier of the system, they are unequalled, and their virtues in cases of termination of life to the head and asthmatic complaints, cannot be too highly commended on, in short, by a preference with these admirable pills, there are few complaints which can resist their extraordinary influence.
